Historical Background and Discovery

Origins in Ancient Mesopotamia

The Epic of Gilgamesh was composed in ancient Mesopotamia, a region often called the cradle of civilization, roughly around 2100 BCE. It was written in the Sumerian and later Akkadian languages, primarily during the Old Babylonian period (circa 2000 BCE). The story centers around Gilgamesh, the legendary king of Uruk, a city-state in southern Mesopotamia, who was believed to be a historical figure with semi-divine status.

The Archaeological Discovery

The first significant discovery of the epic came in the 19th century when British archaeologists excavated the ancient city of Nineveh, uncovering the library of Ashurbanipal. This library contained numerous cuneiform tablets, including the famous Epic of Gilgamesh. The most complete version was found in the 7th-century BCE Assyrian city of Nineveh. Since then, scholars have translated and analyzed these tablets, piecing together various versions of the story and gaining insight into Mesopotamian culture.

The story explores how Gilgamesh's character evolves through his adventures and relationships.

The Friendship with Enkidu
